

CMES Colloquium

Tales of Tangier

the complete short stories of

Mohamed Choukri

translated from the Arabic by Jonas Elbousty

Luce Hall, 203 • 34 Hillhouse Avenue • December 8, 2022 • 12:00 pm

Jonas Elbousty, Near Eastern Languages & Civilizations, Yale University

Hosted by Thomas Connolly

Tales of Tangier: The Case of Mohamed Choukri

Jonas Elbousty holds MPhil and PhD degrees from Columbia University. He teaches in the Department of Near Eastern Languages and Civilizations at Yale University, where he served as Director of Undergraduate Studies for six years. He is currently Director of Undergraduate Studies for the Modern Middle East Major, and he also directs the Arabic Summer Study Abroad Program. He is the (co)author of three books, and he has two forthcoming books: Anthology of Arabic Short Stories (Georgetown Press, 2023) and Tales of Tangier (Yale University Press, 2023). His work has appeared in ArabLit, ArabLit Quarterly, Live Encounters, Michigan Quarterly Review, Sekka, Jadaliyya, Asheville Poetry Review, Banipal, Prospectus, Journal of New Jersey Poets, Journal of North African Studies, Comparative Literature, International Journal of Interdisciplinary Gender Studies, and International Journal of Middle East Studies, among other venues.